Hello everyone, its Mickey, Mickey Mouse, I'm just a mouse. I have heard big PP on, once in a while, then there is AYJ, I still hear from him via email. Then there is Dippy, hes still around a bit. I have tried to get ahold of KE6MJ, but of course his email address is bogus, just like him, DOH! I have a little 4 band HT that I use these days just to listen, I'm on 2M, 6M, 440 and 1.2GHz. Currently I'm working with GPS systems that provide a sub inch accuracy. I was just in Colombia and Costa Rica in November and am going back to Colombia in June to see my future wife. I plan to retire there, but am still interested in maybe a little home in Maui too.

Darn good question -- Curtie, Bernice, Melissa, Fleming, Pala, Denise, and the list goes on!

In the meantime, here's a great online resource -- a ham radio rogue's gallery! Lou Ann, samurai ham, and others are listed.

Rich,

I talked to Gary a little over a year ago and he seemed to be pretty far out there. He was looking after some cripled friend in Redwood City. The last I heard... From Uncle Carl is that he was still in RWC but out of contact with everybody. Have you had any contact with him? Is he just a street drunk now?

Rich, that's not a nice thing to say about Gary. He may be in RWC but he isn't fucked up. He is light years ahead of most of us philosophically and a brilliant tactician when it comes to panhandling and jamming. If only we could all be as advanced in intellect as he is. The next time I see himI'm going to tell him you said he is fucked up. He won't appreciate it. You will be on his shit list. And, I certainly wouldn't want to be in that category. Your days are numbered Rich. It's just a matter of time, OK? By the way, how much do you charge for a party of six, all black?

But Rich... You can't deny Gary's cleverness and whit back in the days of the $2000 law suit. I thought he was the model amatuer radio operator...and I did everything to be as much like Gary as possible. In retrospect I guess I was weak and uncommmitted in comparison. Oh well, I probably wake up with fewer headaches in the morning for it.

Seriously tho, Its too bad he is no longer capable of sitting down for a beer and an interesting conversation anymore.

17. Update from The World's Biggest Jammer

Yahoo group: radiojammers
Date: 2006-03-05 18:45:17 UTC
From: Bill Crowell
Topic: 17 Message: 17

I applied for the vanity callsign "W6WBJ" so I could use the phonetics "World's Biggest Jammer", but the FCC "offlined" my application for "Enforcement Bureau Action", or some such shit, so I have no idea what they intend to do with it. I take it that Riley Hollingsworth is not too thrilled with the prospect of giving me that callsign.

I am divorced, and my ex-wife reduced me to the role of sperm donor, which seems to be the inevitable fate of the modern American male unless he permits himself to be pussywhipped by his XYL. The upside is that I am no longer addicted to cunt, and am happy to be by myself, although I do have a fuck buddy. I work as little as possible and make just enough money to pay the bills. The thrill of practicing law wore off a long time ago. I aspire to be a bicycle bum, and ride my bike as much as possible. I am in pretty good shape for an old fart, but it makes me think that I lack the qualifications (morbid obesity) to remain a ham.

I have a website devoted to jamming, the URL of which is:

http://pageproducer.innercite.com/bcrowell4/index.html

I am now devoting my ham radio talents to 3840 kc, late at night. All the "good hams" hate my guts, so I must be doing something right. Somebody has been on there recently playing the "Babs and Dad" tapes. I wonder who it is.

That's about it for now. Billy the Bill Collector, N6AYJ

In addition, since Art's wife died his group hasn't been as active. Timmy gets drunk so early in the evening that he isn't on past 6pm. We need a new shining star. Who could that be??

Ben still holds the callsign KB6ZD, but he never gets on the air because he knows what a bunch of assholes hams are and wants nothing to do with them. I raised the kid to have a lot of common sense, huh??

He got his B.A. in Physics from U.C. Berkeley and his Ph.D. in physics from Yale, and then did about 5 years of postgraduate work at Argonne National Laboratory in Downer's Grove, Illinois in the area of high-energy physics. He is now teaching, primarily physics and astronomy for non-majors, at a junior college in Southern California. He has been offered "better" jobs but he doesn't want to "sell out" to the establishment. (His father, OTOH, would just like to have the OPPORTUNITY to sell out!!) Ben is married to a fellow college professor, has two daughters, plays several instruments and is a hotshot Linux programmer (hates Microsoft and Windoze). He has a website devoted to undergraduate physics and astronomy education, with free downloads of the physics and astronomy textbooks he has written, which are pretty interesting because they explain all kinds of fairly difficult physical, astronomical and electrical phenomena in layman's terms, so even I can understand them. If you have a high-speed internet connection and access to a fast printer, you could print out the books for free if you so desired. Also check out the astronomical object locator program he wrote, which all the astronomers said was impossible to do, but they just didn't understand how to program mathematical arrays the way Ben does. Ill check it out Billy. Sounds like the Baby Einstein is doing well.

Since I got off the Air I managed to get married and have 2 little kids- Ruben 1 and Marcella 4. You just wait till I teach Ruben a thing or 2 about radio. Marcella is on a princess drag right now and will have nothing of it. She is remotely interested in demolition cars and derbys tho. Last weekend I got her up on skiis.

I am a bum at home right now but talking to companies about business development opportunities in digital audio/ video consumer products and technologies. I hope to have some news soon about a new gig for me. The last several years I have been an independent businsss consultant.

RE: Amateur Radio Extra Class K6TXH; Renewal and Vanity Call Sign Application File #0002240798: Case Number 2002-2548

Dear Mr. Wingate:

By letter dated September 14, 2005, we notified you that the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau, as a result of complaints filed against your station, set aside the grant of your application for renewal and for vanity call sign K6TXH. Our letter notified you that the Wireless Bureau referred your application to the Enforcement Bureau for review. As a result of continuing complaints against the operation of your station, more information is needed in order to make a decision on your application and to determine whether you are qualified to hold an Amateur Radio Service license.

On April 26, 2004, you were issued a Warning Notice regarding deliberate interference on the 75-meter amateur band, including jamming, making threats to other operators and to law enforcement officers, and broadcasts in which you appeared incoherent. By letter dated April 29, 2004, you responded, apologized for the infractions and stated that you would avoid such operation in the future. Copies of the letters are enclosed.

On November 24, 2004, you were issued another Warning Notice as a result of operation of your station on November 11, 2004, in which you again threatened various persons and appeared to be incoherent or seriously impaired. Our November 24, 2004, letter included recordings of your November 11, 2004, transmissions. You responded by letter received December 23, 2004, stating that you had no recollection of making such transmissions. You further stated that on the date of the recording, you were taking pain medication which apparently reacted with alcohol. Again you assured us that you would comply with Commission rules in the future.

The Enforcement Bureau has continued to receive complaints about the operation of your station since January 2005. Not all of the complaints are valid, and some of the recordings are fake. However, the complaints and recordings that are valid show the same violations for which you were warned twice, and for which you twice gave assurances of future compliance. We have discussed these complaints and many have been furnished to you. The recordings referenced in the complaints will be made available to you upon request.

Complaints received about your station constituted the basis of the set-aside of your renewal application by the Wireless Bureau, and now warrant enforcement action against you, which will include license revocation or monetary forfeiture (fine) or both. Fines normally range from $7,500 to $10,000.

Your responses to letters from the Enforcement Bureau and the continuing complaints, including recordings, along with telephone conversations with you, however, indicate that by your own admission you have a serious problem with an impairment that prevents you from maintaining control over your station. Therefore, to avoid enforcement action against your license, we are offering you the opportunity to voluntarily relinquish your operating privileges for two years so that this problem may be addressed. If you agree to this solution by signing below, you are agreeing to refrain from operating any Amateur radio equipment for the two year period ending at midnight on March 1, 2008, and to provide documentation during that interval that you are seeking treatment for your impairment.

If you sign this agreement, return please keep a copy for your records and return the original, along with your license, to the letterhead address. You are advised that should you decline to accept this opportunity to resolve this matter, we will proceed with enforcement action against your license.

Please call me at 717-338-2502 if you have any questions.

Micky,

Did gary have the PILE of newpapers when you lived with him? When I was a teenager, my parents once threw me out of the house for a week, and I had to stay at Gary's. That was lots of fun. There was the big pile of newspaper in the middle of the room. I think it was always there- Even when LJ lived there....but maybe then it was behind the racks of 10M gear

My memories of him vary, maybe because it was so out of the norm to be there. I remember being afraid of the bathroom tub, it was multicolored from all the paints he used, and I also was afraid to open the fridge because of all the decaying things in there. He, "Gary", would always be in his room, I never went in there because I had the feeling that I would never be able to escape once I entered. He would paint and whatever else went on in there I didn't want to know, I know he always kept a loaded gun on hand, why, well who knew.

I heard all kinds of stories about Mitch. I remember when I tracked him down on k7ij repeater when he was only living about 2 miles from me. He was on the air telling people about how he was a software developer making all kinds of money, boats and cars he had. That all changed once I tracked him down a give his address out the everybody on 529!!! Peter and others thought this was funny, and soon after, Mitch totally disappeared off the radio. It was great to find him. He lived in a rental house with a beam on top of it pointed at the repeater. Yep! I was the one who found you Mitch. I guess poor Mitch had to move because of all the shit that happened.

Anyway, being a real software developer, I have just took early retirement from HP, and am soon moving out of the area once I sell my two homes. I will be moving to my 5 acres near Paradise, California which is on the ridge over looking Chico.

Micky,

Did gary have the PILE of newpapers when you lived with him? When I was a teenager, my parents once threw me out of the house for a week, and I had to stay at Gary's. That was lots of fun. There was the big pile of newspaper in the middle of the room. I think it was always there- Even when LJ lived there....but maybe then it was behind the racks of 10M gear

Yea memories are great, even when your wrong, I never had a beam, I never said I did anything with software. As for money, boats and cars, well yes, money and cars are no problem, don't like boats too much. I have never had a rental house which I wonder, who did you get in trouble. I never had to move because of anything that's happened to me on ham radio, still wondering who did you harass?

I just left HP, the main one in Palo Alto, and none too soon, what a bunch of ignorant bastards. They no longer know how to keep employees, and they dont care anyway, they have a huge new work force in india. My god, dont they realize there are many well paying jobs out there and HP is not #1 any longer. Would never work for them again, and yes, I have been there before when they were a good company.

And you can always stop by my little place in Maui, I like it there nice and quiet.

I remember when I tracked him down on k7ij repeater when he was only living about 2 miles from me. He was on the air telling people about how he was a software developer making all kinds of money, boats and cars he had. That all changed once I tracked him down a give his address out the everybody on 529!!! Peter and others thought this was funny, and soon after, Mitch totally disappeared off the radio. It was great to find him. He lived in a rental house with a beam on top of it pointed at the repeater. Yep! I was the one who found you Mitch. I guess poor Mitch had to move because of all the shit that happened.

Anyway, being a real software developer, I have just took early retirement from HP, and am soon moving out of the area once I sell my two homes. I will be moving to my 5 acres near Paradise, California which is on the ridge over looking Chico.

Sorry Rich,

I was the one who really found Mitch. Me, Steve Dold (what was his call) and a few other members of the UCD Radio Club. We had to knock on the door several times before Mitch answered, then we asked him to join our club. Mitch was by far the most verbally clever member of the Davis Jamm-ah I mean Radio Club. I left my dorm room one night with a speaker pointed to the lawn turned up full volume to 22/82. When I came home there was a whole audience sitting out there listening and laughing to Micky's diatribe, not knowing what the hell it was all about. Next to Gary Kerr, I think Micky was the funniest person on the high band

I remember one time Mitch was raising a real racket on 2-Meters, so someone brought up the autopatch and called Mitch's Mother so she could see what was going on. She wound up on 2-Meters chewing out Mitch and asking "Why are you doing this?!" That had to be one of the best autopatches ever made! Someone recorded that incident and used to play the tape of it on the Repeater when Mitch would get on and start trying to punch people's buttons. Fun times on two-meters.

I cc'd W6CTK on this email, too - he should be on this mailing list. He was always good at stirring up Mitch, which would start out with "Mitch Rosenberg!, heh heh heh".

I think you guys are being 'way too hard on Gary, Mitch and Larry when they were roommates. You've got to remember how hard they worked to promote consumer protection. Why, they proved that there is absolutely no need to purchase toilet paper, and all the toilet paper ads you see on TV are just a capitalist plot to make you buy something you don't need.

Well, Gary Kerr is a very interesting person. Gary would tell me how he likes to suck off young boys over there on "fag's beach" in Sacramento. What wonderful and adventures person Gary is.

Gary P. can tell you the story of Gary when he has his broken down boat at "fags" beach. Gary Kerr would tell us storys of how he like to suck off young boys over there on the beach. What a wonderful and adventures person Gary Kerr turned out to be.

This is all getting to be a big mixing bowl isn't it. I was not at Gary's while Larry was there. I now remember something that Billy brought up, there was never, NEVER, any freaking toilet paper in the damn bathroom, yea now I recall that. It was disturbing to me, I made it a point to always bring in and take out my own roll, I wanted to know how the heck Gary did his stuff in there and I also would never shake his hand in-case I might have guessed correctly. Maybe it all came out prepackaged.

What a jam session!!!! Here's my take on it. I went to visit Gary in 1976 when he lived in Pomona (Monochino). He lived in a one room apartment behaind a main house. I called it the bugatorium. I called it that because I didn't sleep a wink the night I stayed there because there were so many cockroaches and other bug crawling around. You could feel them run over your body as the night went on. There were big beetle stink bugs and there was a little closet that served as a bathroom with NO toilet paper. Gary was running the Chicago project in those days and he would fry the stink bugs in the amp as he tuned up. It was quite a show.

Sounds like the hotel room I had in Amsterdam last summer! When I got home, I had this sore on my face that wouldn't heal up. I thought I had a freakin' skin cancer, so I went to see a dermatologist at Kaiser and had to pay the freakin' $50 co-pay, only to have the nice Indian lady dermatologist tell me, "That's a bedbug bite, Mr. Crowell".

I have a Polaroid color picture of the WA6JIY 4-1000A "Chicago Project" from when he was in Stockton, err San Dimas/Pomonachino. Gary used to tell me about the evolution of the amp, sometimes it would literally blow meters off of the front panel. There were no shields or covers on it, and if any cat or critter would have wandered into the innards of it, it was sure to be turned into a stinky, burnt mess. But it sure terrorized 3922 as it was driven by the highly modified National NCX-3 transceiver (I don't think that had covers on it, either, if I remember correctly.)

I'm sure all the neighbors enjoyed it too, as its TVI/RFI suppression circuits were nil.

Anything the Gary had would turn into shit. His NCX-3 was fucked up, and the slugs were worn out. He had to keep it on its side with a tuning tool in it. This was due to him changing it back and forth retuning it for 11 meters.

So, given his bother and Uncle Carl are queer, I guess it no surprise that JIY likes to suck off little boys.

Rich,
That is so correct. The NCX3 was on its side and he used a didle stick to get max to drive the 4-1000. Then, that night he threw the NCX3 in the back seat of the Honda and we drove up to Altadena and parked infront of Ralphs house and worked him over. I think you were on that night Larry.

61. RE: [radiojammers] Gary, Mitch and Larry when they were roommates

I wonder how he ever got the NCX-3 up to 27 MHz? It was only a triband transceiver for the 80/40/20-Meter bands. It was the first SSB rig I ever tried out at home when a ham visiting from California dropped it off at my house for a few days, so I could try out SSB. At the time, I had just an old Heathkit DX-40 for controlled-carrier screen AM modulated phone, and I was trying to zero-beat the SSB stations with my drifty Heathkit VF-1 VFO. Long before the hi-fi SSB audio Art Bell wannabees.

Anything the Gary had would turn into shit. His NCX-3 was fucked up, and the slugs were worn out. He had to keep it on its side with a tuning tool in it. This was due to him changing it back and forth retuning it for 11 meters.

So, given his bother and Uncle Carl are queer, I guess it no surprise that JIY likes to suck off little boys.

I have a Polaroid color picture of the WA6JIY 4-1000A "Chicago Project" from when he was in Stockton, err San Dimas/Pomonachino. Gary used to tell me about the evolution of the amp, sometimes it would literally blow meters off of the front panel. There were no shields or covers on it, and if any cat or critter would have wandered into the innards of it, it was sure to be turned into a stinky, burnt mess. But it sure terrorized 3922 as it was driven by the highly modified National NCX-3 transceiver (I don't think that had covers on it, either, if I remember correctly.)

I'm sure all the neighbors enjoyed it too, as its TVI/RFI suppression circuits were nil.

behaind a main house. I called it the bugatorium. I called it that because I didn't sleep a wink the night I stayed there because there were so many cockroaches and other bug crawling around. You could feel them run over your body as the night went on. There were big beetle stink bugs and there was a little closet that served as a bathroom with NO toilet paper. Gary was running the Chicago project in those days and he would fry the stink bugs in the amp as he tuned up. It was quite a show.

A local ham recently became a silent key. Part of the equipment being sold from the estate is a beautiful linear amplifier that runs a PAIR of 4-1000As - 5KW+ output easily. It uses a Heathkit SB-200 1200W linear amp as a driver. It's in a nice, two-bay rack cabinet, and the amp slides out of the cabinet, tilts, and is just a gorgeous unit. Asking price so far is $4K, and if it doesn't sell, it will be lowered $500 at a time until it does sell.

Where were these amps when Ralph and Paul needed to be worked over with them? Of course, other amps like the Alpha 77SX which run a pair of 8877s pop up occasionally on the swap listings, and they'll also do 5KW+ output.

Rich,
That is so correct. The NCX3 was on its side and he used a didle stick to get max to drive the 4-1000. Then, that night he threw the NCX3 in the back seat of the Honda and we drove up to Altadena and parked infront of Ralphs house and worked him over. I think you were on that night Larry.

Thanks for the warning, Billy - I looked up that Hotel and saw several reviews by unhappy people. The last time I was in Amsterdam, I stayed at the NH Hotel Caransa, which was very nice and convenient for walking around in the central part of town. I was just lucky picking that one, since it's hard to judge when all you have is web sites, etc. to go by when you're trying to book a hotel in a far away place on your own. Another time, I stayed at another very nice NH Hotel near Schipol Airport, as part of a big group of about 250 people.

"The NH Caransa overlooks the lively Rembrandtsquare in the heart of Amsterdam. The hotel is located near the flower market, Damsquare and the main shopping streets."

And what a lively place it was. I'm ready to go back anytime!

I met my wife at a party in Amsterdam. I was working for Sun Microsystems and traveling to that part of the world frequenlty. Its one of my favorite cities in Euorpe, next to Barcelona.

I had always stayed at a tiny canal house called Hotel Hegra on Herengracht, 10 minutes from Central Station. Its a tiny place- bathroom down the hall (but always with plenty of toilet paper) and a nice inn keeper who offers you belgian beers. My recommendation.

Oh, man, I love Amsterdam, too!! I hope to go back as soon as I can afford it.

I agree with Larry that it is a mistake to make your reservations over the internet. I have had very bad luck that way. The innkeepers lie like hell on their websites. You've gotta go there personally and inspect the hotel and the room before you pull out your credit card.

OK, I have another Amsterdam hotel story. When I was there in 2001, the only room I could find was at the Hotel Kabul, run by a bunch of arabs. In the middle of the night I heard rats running across the floor of the room and turned on the light. A couple of rats went scurrying away. So I went down to the front desk to complain. The arab guy at the desk replied incredulously to me, "You are afraid of RATS?"

Unfortunatley alot of the world thinks A'dam is pretty cool and therfore hotels, are like restaurants- if you don't show up early you won't get one.

I was in A'dam with my wife on 9/9/99. We were walking alone one of the peripheral canals, when we came upon some drunk brits looking down into the murk. I overhead a bystander ask what they were looking at and the brit replied: My friend just jumped in. I looked and didn't see anything and figured they were halucinating or something....but several minutes later a fire engine rolled up. A fireman was already scuba's up and tethered. He just jumped right into the brown murk. After 5 minutes he pulled a guy out. The had to defibrlate and got a weak pulse befroe screaming off to the hospital. Regina and I waked over to a bar for a beer after that and took an outside table by the street. Before the beer arrived, I saw a cat run out into the street as a big truck came by. The cat was hit, rotate around the rear double tire, and then ran away. We decided to call it an evening at that point.

Your plane fare, tourist class, would be about $650.00 per person, round-trip (U.S. Air seems to have some of the best fares). Your hotel would be about $100-125 per night, for a fairly nice hotel. Meals might be anywhere from $25 to $50 per day, per person, depending on what you want to eat (maybe less, if you ate on the cheap). For example, a Big Mac dinner at McDonald's costs about $8.00 there. Under the European Union, there are no more borders or border guards. You simply drive or take the train across the border and nobody checks your passport. Cops of the various governments might check your passport without prior notice while you're on the train, however, to make sure you're not an illegal immigrant. Aside from that, they only check your passport on arrival and departure.

Those prices sound about right. The only times I had my passport checked was just before taking the Ferry from England to France, or going through the gates to board the Eurostar train to/from England and France. And of course, at the airports for arrival and departure to and from the States. I saw the remains of old border stations between Germany and France that are now abandoned. No passport checks going from country to country any more within Continental Europe. I'm ready to go again!

Billy B. C. must have been in bicycle heaven in Holland. They even have what look like dedicated "Bicycle Freeways" going out into the country. And thousands and thousands of bicycles all over Amsterdam!

It appears that the jamming problem on 75-Meters has reared its ugly head again. It looked like the problem had died with the demise of the WA6GVG and W7DVJ Freethinker's Net Show on 3922, but it seems to have surfaced again - this time on 3840.

The details can be found in an eham.net web site article:

Listen you, when Billy says pinch, my little white gloves go into action. I'm just a mouse, a pissed off little mouse. Hey Billy, why didn't you put up my letter from the FCC, they want $1,000 from me, but I never paid, if you pay that means you are guilty. They could never prove it was me anyway, how do you DF a mouse, they still renew my license. Ha ha ha, little red shorts....damn these shorts, Minnie hates them, she wants me to wear leopard skins.

I don't have a copy of it, Mitch. Can you FAX it to me and I'll scan and post it? Or snailmail me a copy? My FAX number is (530) 622-8157. If the line is busy, call me on my regular number, (530) 622-3386 and tell me to get off the internet.

Why are you avoiding the question? Given he did not take the deal, I assume Steve wants the FCC to take more action against him. Given there are so many tapes of him drink on the air, plus writing in an email to the fcc that he has a problem would make the case against him easy.

"Why are you avoiding the question?"

I'm not avoiding the question, you blank disturber! I simply made the incorrect assumption that perhaps you had been listening to 3840 at all recently, and therefore might know what the hell you were talking about, but apparently you haven't, and don't.

"Given he did not take the deal, I assume Steve wants the FCC to take more action against him."

Incorrect. In his recent Warning Notice, Riley offered to send Steve copies of the recordings the Commission is relying upon before he makes his decision about which option to choose. Steve called Riley and asked him to send the recordings. Riley agreed, but said it would take him about 10 days to send them. Steve's time to reply has therefore been extended accordingly.

"Given there are so many tapes of him drink (sic; learn to spell or use a spellchecker) on the air, plus writing in an email to the fcc that he has a problem would make the case against him easy."

Not true. For example, have you ever read Title 47 of the U.S. Code, Section 154? How can Riley possibly meet the requirements of Sec. 154 for laying a foundation for the introduction of the recordings into evidence? And if Riley admits that SOME of the recordings were fake, on what rational basis can he distinguish between the fake ones and the supposedly "real" ones?

Mickey, please pinch Rich's neck at this time. With your thighs, not your white gloves.

That was at least 15 years ago, maybe 20 I don't remember all the details. It was for a NON transmission allegedly by me. I received a letter in the classic FCC format telling me that I have to pay them, the FCC, $1,000. I never paid it, I renewed my license no problem, and if I call up the office they will look it up and say, yes, you need to pay the $1,000 and I laugh as I hang up the phone. Prove it, prove I had a radio, prove where I lived, prove you have any idea how to work the equipment. I'm just a little mouse, it's amazing I can generate the energy to press the mic button, I am using VOX now so it is much easier to keep my shorts on while on a extended mouse laughing spree. I'm sure I have the paperwork somewhere in my mousy archives, I will find it again someday, and I will scan it and let you guys see it, right now I have to use my memory about it. I do remember that there was some fucktard on the air making all kinds of horrible racist remarks about Jews, and someone it could have been me, was keying up over the ass bite, but you see, the FCC does not care about racist remarks, or about cussing, they care about that you let that person spew his crap, if you stop them, you are the bad actor.

Retired?, but Peter never did anything. He was either painting one of his very angry and odd pictures of violent deaths of Indians, sitting in his garage picking at a motorcycle engine with a monkeys foot, or sitting on the radio. That is great that his son, little PP, is going to graduate anything, whenever I was around the kid never spoke out loud, he would whisper to PP, I thought he had brain damage.

Mickey, you don't understand. It is very hard to retire from doing nothing because you keep thinking you're still working.

I have an idea. Why don't I make a run to the Bay Area, locate Gary, interview him about what's been happening in his life for the last 15 or 20 years, record the interview and upload it to my website so anybody who wanted to could download it? If I wanted to locate him, where would I start? Redwood City or Martinez? Where does he hang out? I mean, seriously. No facetious replies, OK?

Related question: I would drive down there in my camper and stay in an RV park in order to minimize expenses. Can anybody tell me where there's a reasonably-priced RV camp near where Gary stays? Or would any of you Bay Area types let me park overnight in their driveway or something in order to further this cause?

Billy,

You are welcome to park in front of our house in Mt. View. I think Gary is in Redwood City, but don't have any idea how to find him. Last time I talked to him--- about a year ago, he seemed pretty destitute, and I felt if I invited him over, he might not leave. When I talked to Uncle Carl a few weeks ago, Gary was out of contact with the whole family.

Rich, would you have any idea what dive bars Gary could be hanging out in?

I'm sure you remember how, in the early '80's, Curtie was always cruising around in his '67 Mustang. Occasionally he and Bob Mathiasen, W6JZY or "Harry" (SK), would drive from Marin County over to my office in Oakland to see if they could get me to buy them lunch. The first time they did this, I took them out to an Italian delicatessen near my office. But the only thing Harry wanted for lunch was two pint bottles of Italian wine. I objected that I didn't want to buy him a bunch of wine, but he got mad and we compromised: I bought him only one bottle. He drank it for lunch, but he was pretty perturbed that I wouldn't buy him the second bottle so he could drink it later. He thought I was being rather unreasonable, and let me know it in no uncertain terms.

After this episode, I figured out the "lunch game" that Curt and Harry were running on me, so the next time they showed up unexpectedly and asked me to buy them lunch, I told them I was too busy. Curt then asked if he could use my telephone, so I said OK and let him use the phone in my "inner sanctum" while I went out and sat in the reception area of the office. He closed the door between the two rooms, and I thought he did it because he wanted to have a private conversation. Instead, he took a can of blue spray paint, leaned out the window and spray painted "KE6MJ" in bright blue paint on the yellow brick facade of my office building. The manager of the building saw it right away and burst into my office, really pissed off, before I knew that Curt had done it, and asked why in the hell I would do something like that. I tried to explain that Curt had done it without my knowledge, but I don't think he believed me, and our relationship was never the same afterward. He threatened to evict me; I had to do some really fast talking to avoid it; and he ordered me never to let Curt or Harry enter the building again or he would evict me. The yellow bricks were very porous and really absorbed the paint well. The owner of the building tried various methods to clean off the blue paint, but never was able to get it all off. Ever afterward, you could clearly read the "KE6MJ" in faded blue paint on the building outside my window. With friends like that.....

Bill,
I would start by cruising the El Camino. Then I would hit every gay bar in RC. Check under the Woodside Rd. overpass over the railroad tracks near Chestnut St. Redwood harbor was another of his haunts. Ask the bums if they know where the guy that hobbles around on cruches is, the guy with the chin whiskers. Just follow your nose.

Hello Billy,

JIY hung out in the old Mexico part of Redwood City. With a dysfunctional hip, he should be easy to spot. He is afraid to get his hip fixed because he thinks that he'll end up being a cripple. What a strange thinking process given he is hobbling around on crutches. Billy, I think once you meet him, you would not want him in your vehicle. In Sacramento, Gary (K6sp) and I took him to a local pizza parlor. While driving home, I notice a horrid odor in my car. I traced it to the passenger side where JIY was setting. In short, it took me a good month to get the odor out. Gary is a now a paranoid homeless person who still thinks the FCC I after him. Yea, let's go find Gary Kerr. I hope when am living over in Concord, I can track him down.

106. KR6P - John Bushati

Yahoo group: radiojammers
Date: 2006-03-15 00:49:43 UTC
From: Bill Crowell
Topic: 106 Message: 106

Does anybody know the story of some ham arrested for impersonating a cop in Marin County?

That was John Bushati, KR6P, of Tiburon.

I talked to John on the 147.70 repeater several times when we were both Generals in 1976, when he was a high school student. It turned out that we both intended to go to 555 Battery Street on a certain Friday to try to upgrade, so we agreed to meet in the lobby of the Customshouse. Well, it was hard to miss John because he was as big as a house. He looked like a bale of hay with its middle wire tie broken. Apparently he bought his clothes from Omar the Tentmaker. He was the only person in this history of mankind who ever had a charge account at the local MacDonald's. They did this for him because he was such a good customer because a couple of times a day he would go in there and order 8 Big Macs at a time. At the end of the month, he would bum some money from his father to pay his MacDonald's bill up current.

What a freaking motormouth! He spent so much time talking on 2 meters that he didn't do any homework one semester and flunked all his classes. At that point his uncle, who was the disciplinarian of the family, got really mad at him and stomped on his Kenwood 2-meter rig, breaking all the circuit boards in it. John gave it to me and I spent a large portion of my life, it seemed, trying to fix it, but never could get it working right. When I'd get one intermittent repaired, another one would develop. I finally gave up.

John was an excellent CW operator and got DXCC using a barefoot exciter and a G5RV. He was a big LouAnn fan and made up all kinds of obscene phonetics for her callsign, which he did not hesitate to use whenever he heard her on the .22/.82 repeater.

When he got out of high school, John tried to join the Marines. They ruled him ineligible due to his weight, but Old Motormouth kept talking to the recruiters and they were very impressed with his desire, so they let him join provisionally. He had to lose a certain amount of weight during basic training or he'd be tossed out. This really motivated him. He was in the Marines for about 6 months and went from not even being able to walk a mile to being able to run a mile in about 6-1/2 minutes, which is really amazing progress, but he just couldn't lose enough weight within the 6 months and they washed him out.

When he got home, he was so depressed about not making it as a Marine that he started fantasizing about becoming a CHP officer. He went to car auctions and bought old CHP cars. He preferred Dodge Monacos with the 440-V8. Then he bought himself a police uniform and a radar gun and stood on Tiburon Blvd. next to his ex-police car, aiming the radar gun at passing cars. That was when he got busted for impersonation.

I heard from Eddie Weber, KA6ZMI, that John thereafter became very depressed and stayed in bed, curled up in the fetal position, for a long time. Finally his family had him committed. The story I heard is that he is still committed today.

John was the proverbial "Excitable Boy" who just couldn't stand life's realities.

109. When Billy Met Curt and Harry

Yahoo group: radiojammers

From: Bill Crowell
Topic: 109 Message: 109

I talked to Curtie on the 146.70 Mt. Tam repeater quite a bit before driving over to Marin County to meet him for the first time. He had been working for one of the local fire districts, and while he worked there they gave him a room to sleep in, but he got fired and his mother kicked him out of the house, so he had no place to live. He was going with Bernice. When he got terminated by the fire district, somehow he "forgot" to return the keys to the gates on all the fire roads going up Mt. Tam. Every night he and Berniece would open one of the gates, cruise on up one of the fire roads, and sleep in his Mustang where the cops wouldn't roust them. Their kitchen was located in the Mustang's trunk, and consisted of several loaves of Wonder bread, a large jar of mayonnaise and a cardboard carton full of tuna cans. It was true love.

Curt took me over to San Anselmo to meet Harry, W6JZY. Harry had been a T.V. repairman before the booze took its toll. Before that, he had been a radio station engineer and of course he had his First Phone ticket. Everyone said he had been a brilliant radio engineer before becoming an alky, but he just couldn't stand the pressure of the radio business, started drinking and couldn't stop. By the time I met him, Harry wasn't repairing T.V.'s anymore; he was just living in the T.V. shop and doing some serious drinking. His sister was his guardian and doled the money out to him in amounts small enough that he could never buy enough liquor at one time to O.D. When he got drunk, he would fall out of his bed and hurt himself, so his sister had a carpenter build a special bed in his shop that had built-up sides so he couldn't fall out of it. The front of the T.V. shop was painted gloss black, and it was really ugly. For some reason Harry had had a dispute with Gary Kerr a couple of years before that, and Gary drove by Harry's shop and threw an egg at the black facade. Harry never got around to cleaning the egg off, and it was still there two years later when I visited. Curt pointed it out to me as a historical landmark.

Harry liked to ride the Tiburon ferry to S.F. and back almost every day, swigging on his bottle of wine and talking on the 2-meter repeaters the whole time. He was renowned for never using his call sign. I heard that Mr. Marti knew him, knew how smart he had been before he became a wino, took pity on him, and never took any enforcement action against him for not signing his call.

Yeaaa.....this is Curtie goin down 101, I'm goin by a flaming wreck, looks like another bad one, the guy went thru the windshield. (Another Curt moment, I never understood how he was always going by horrible car wrecks, mayhaps he caused them, possibly he saw things no one else saw.)

111. Mr. Marti Gets Two Birds With One Stone

The time: 1983. Gary Kerr had lost his license, and wasn't supposed to be on the air. But he and Phil Beaudet, WD6FGE, would QSO on the 145.41 Mt. Diablo repeater and jam the hell out of it without using their callsigns. They thought nobody knew who they were. Sometimes Phil would identify properly, and he thought nobody had figured out that he was the jammer. He had been living in San Jose, but his wife kicked him out of the house and he moved his trailer to some land 'way out in the woods in the mountains near Big Basin, at the end of a long dirt road. Near where the dirt road met the county road, there was a big chain gate where several houses were located. The chain was locked with several padlocks belonging to the residents of the nearby houses. Mr. Marti D.F.'d 'FGE when he did identify, and knew the jamming was coming from the same location. So he drove down to Big Basin to make the bust. He took coordinates on a USGS map of the area and figured out which dirt road had to be the one leading to the location in question. He then asked the neighbors near the county road to unlock the chain gate, but those hippies told him to go "blank" himself. So Mr. Marti went to visit the County Sheriff. Soon, Mr. Marti returned to talk to the neighbors again, this time accompanied by the Sheriff, who told them to either unlock the chain or they would be spending some time in Greybar Hotel. They unlocked the chain and Mr. Marti drove the FCC van back to where Phil had his trailer. Phil had his 2-meter rig installed in his car and was operating while sitting in the front seat. When he heard Mr. Marti driving up, he turned his radio off, jumped out of his car, ran into his trailer and pretended that he hadn't been on the air. Mr. Marti knocked on the door to the trailer and asked Phil if he had been operating on 145.41; Phil denied doing so. Then Mr. Marti asked to inspect the radio in the front seat of Phil's car. He asked Phil to turn it on. Sure enough, the display came up saying "145.41". Better yet, Gary was on the repeater saying, "Where'd you go, Phil? Where'd you go?" Dead giveaway! At that point Mr. Marti cited Phil and suspended his license for some period of time. Also, soon afterward, the Commission levied a $2,000 Notice of Apparent Liability against Gary for operating without a license.

Bill, you need to write a book so none of this valuable knowledge is lost. Who know, you might end up being the next Truman Capote.

One summer during the height of the two meter jamming, Gary was being jammed out by an unknown station. Remember, jam a jammer that's not jamming. Gary was very jeaalous that someone was outdoing him. He came by my place when this was happening and we decided to see if we could find this guy. So we strated driving north on the El Camino Real from Menlo Park listening on the input. Gary continued to jack the guy up and he kept jamming Gary. As we approached San Mateo the signal was getting very strong. We removed the antenna and could still hear him. As we passed Third Ave. it was very loud with no antenna. I turned down Fourth Ave. It peaked up and then started down. I went around the block and headed the other direction on Third. It was getting louder. Then, as we got in front of the Ben Franklin Hotel, there sat W6TXP and his mouth was moving in sink with what was coming out the speaker. I parked across the street from him and Gary jumped out. I followed. Gary stuck his head in the passenger side door window and started cussing at Dwight. Then he opened the door and pulled a knife that I didn't know he had. I had to intervene. I couldn't believe what was happening and that it was W6TXP who I had known since I was a teenager in the late 50s. It took a lot of talking to restrain Gary and TXP was visibly shaken from the fact that he was discovered and that Gary had pulled a knife on him.

I turned down Fourth Ave. It peaked up and then started down. I went around the block and headed the other direction on Third. It was getting louder. Then, as we got in front of the Ben Franklin Hotel, there sat W6TXP and his mouth was moving in sink with what was coming out the speaker. I parked across the street from him and Gary jumped out. I followed. Gary stuck his head in the passenger side door window and started cussing at Dwight. Then he opened the door and pulled a knife that I didn't know he had. I had to intervene. I couldn't believe what was happening and that it was W6TXP who I had known since I was a teenager in the late 50s. It took a lot of talking to restrain Gary and TXP was visibly shaken from the fact that he was discovered and that Gary had pulled a knife on him.

Hey Larry,
Do you remember the time, and I think you were there, that we all went to dinner at the same restaurant that the DX Club was having a dinner meeting? I think it was out at the Palo Alto Airport. I believe Gary, you, IG and myself were there. I don't remember who else was there. The DX club members kept coming out and staring at us. What details do you remember of that is any?

118. The Golden Mirror Ripoff Restaurant

Yes, Dan. Were you present the time we all congregated there for lunch? I forget what the occasion was; maybe it was Gary's contempt hearing before U.S. District Court Judge Spencer Williams. John had kept bugging us on the Mt. Tam repeater to meet there, and said his father would give us a really good group price on the meal. Well, not only did his father refuse to do so, he insisted on charging us the full menu prices, and they were exorbitant! I remember that some pasta with spaghetti sauce was all I felt I could afford; it cost over $10.00; and this was back in 1983 or so. And the servings were small and the sauce wasn't that good. There was nobody else in the restaurant except us; I wonder why? God, what a terrible place.

Didn't John's family own the Gold Mirror restaurant somewhere out in West Portal?

119. The U.S. Attorney Tries to Hold Gary In Contempt

Yahoo group: radiojammers
Date: 2006-03-15 23:38:57 UTC
From: Bill Crowell
Topic: 119 Message: 119

Background: Gary had attended "Circus Kuhlman" (the hearing on his non-renewal before A.L.J. Kuhlman) and lost his bid to have his license renewed. Then he appealed to the F.C.C. Review Board and lost. The decision had become final, and he no longer had a license. But this was before the enactment of Part 97, Sec. 97.115(b)(2), the "Gary Kerr Amendment" to Part 97. At that time, Part 97 said ANYBODY could participate in third-party communications, under the supervision of a licensed control operator, whether the third-party was formerly licensed or not. Some of us, myself included, felt sorry for Gary and would let him operate third-party on our 2-meter rigs so he could continue to give the "club members" and the DX'ers the hard time that they so richly deserved.

The next thing I knew, I got a telephone call from Richard Vaughan, Regional Director of the F.C.C., in which Mr. Vaughan told me that Gary had not the right to be a third-party because his license had not been renewed. I had the distinct impression that Vaughan didn't know I was an attorney and had been studying up on my amateur radio law. I told him to get fucked, and pointed out the precise wording of former Sec. 97.79(d) which provided that "the licensee of an amateur radio station may permit any third party to participate in amateur radio communication from his station; provided that a control operator is present and continuously monitors and supervises the radiocommunication to insure compliance with the Rules." To his eternal credit, Sergei Marti-Volkoff, the Engineer In Charge of the S.F. Region, had refused to do Vaughan's dirty work because he simply wouldn't tell a lie like that. So Vaughan had to do it himself.

Next I got a telephone call from Carol Fox Foelak, Chief of the Compliance Branch of the Special Services Division of the Private Radio Bureau, telling me the same thing. I told her to get fucked, too.

Next, Ms. Fox Foelak essentially admitted she'd been lying to me by initiating rulemaking proceedings to amend Part 97 so as to provide that hams who'd had their licences revoked, suspended, surrendered or not renewed weren't eligible to be third parties. That Rule was eventually adopted as Sec. 97.115(b)(2).

But that wasn't good enough for Assistant U.S. Attorney Kevin Shetler. He issued an Order to Show Cause against Gary for contempt and hauled him into U.S. District Court in the S.F. Federal Building before Judge Spencer Williams. The "club members" and the DX'ers showed up in force, fully expecting to see Gary hauled off to the slammer. But Gary and I testified about how we were in full compliance with former Sec. 97.79(d), which we showed to Judge Williams and which he then read, apparently for the first time. The U.S. Attorney had not pointed out Sec. 97.79(d) to Judge Williams in its memo of points and authorities supporting its petition for the Order to Show Cause. Then Judge Williams got really pissed off at the Assistant U.S. Attorney, asked him why he hadn't told him about Sec. 97.79(d) before, and angrily refused to hold Gary in contempt. Then he stood up, left the bench and walked briskly back into his chambers before the U.S. Attorney could say anything in protest.

The club members and the DX'ers just couldn't believe it! They all ran up to the desk where Judge Williams' clerk sat, saying things like, "But you just don't understand! We need to speak to Judge Williams in his chambers!" and things like that. The clerk explained to them that the Judge had ruled in the case; he would not see them in his chambers because that would be improper ex parte contact; and that they needed to leave the courtroom now. But they refused to leave and kept insisting that the Judge needed to come back into the courtroom and hear more argument in the case. So the clerk called her bailiff over and asked him to empty the courtroom. The bailiff told all the club members and the DX'ers that he would put them in jail if they didn't leave the courtroom NOW! So they all came filing out the door where Gary and I were standing in the hallway. You can't believe how mad they were! Talk about red faces! They looked like they were going to have heart attacks right there in the Federal Building! Gary and I just laughed and laughed. What a bunch of fucktard losers!

Wow, that is really a shock. Curt really was a pretty smart guy, and could have done a lot with his life if he hadn't got so fucking hooked on drugs. I guess that is a message to us all that when you have an addictive personality, and find yourself having a hard time controlling your drug intake, you need to summon up your mental energy reserves and quit cold turkey. It really isn't as hard to do as you think it will be when you're using, and after you quit you find yourself wondering why the fuck you thought it was going to be so hard.

Maybe he faked his death for insurance money? I do find it strange that the word did not get around. It looks like his mother lives in Billy's area. Maybe Billy can find out where she lives and give her a visit?

In this way, we can get the details of his death.

Maybe he faked his death for insurance money? I do find it strange that the word did not get around. It looks like his mother lives in Billy's area.
Maybe Billy can find out where she lives and give her a visit?

In this way, we can get the details of his death.

That is odd, I had always thought I was talking to Curt when he would answer one of my emails.

Gary was very jeaalous that someone was outdoing him. He came by my place when this was happening and we decided to see if we could find this guy. So we strated driving north on the El Camino Real from Menlo Park listening on the input. Gary continued to jack the guy up and he kept jamming Gary. As we approached San Mateo the signal was getting very strong. We removed the antenna and could still hear him. As we passed Third Ave. it was very loud with no antenna. I turned down Fourth Ave. It peaked up and then started down. I went around the block and headed the other direction on Third. It was getting louder. Then, as we got in front of the Ben Franklin Hotel, there sat W6TXP and his mouth was moving in sink with what was coming out the speaker. I parked across the street from him and Gary jumped out. I followed. Gary stuck his head in the passenger side door window and started cussing at Dwight. Then he opened the door and pulled a knife that I didn't know he had. I had to intervene. I couldn't believe what was happening and that it was W6TXP who I had known since I was a teenager in the late 50s. It took a lot of talking to restrain Gary and TXP was visibly shaken from the fact that he was discovered and that Gary had pulled a knife on him.

From: Bill Crowell
Topic: 128 Message: 128

I spoke to Curt's mother, who lives in Placerville, just now. She confirmed that he passed away. She said his death was due, first, to his taking Vicodin for certain health problems he had. He got hooked on the Vicodin and began abusing it. Then for some reason he had to have all his teeth pulled, and the doctor who pulled them gave him another strong painkiller of some kind. Maybe that doctor didn't know he was abusing Vicodin. Anyway, he OD'd on the combination of the two painkillers.

What I heard was that he hurt is back while working, and was on disability.
So, this story fits in with the reason he was on pain pills.

Anyway, tnx for the phone call, om.

Probably the most bitter, rotten old man that was part of the "anti-JIY", NCDXC group was Stan Kaisel, K6UD. I think he was the ringleader of the group at that hearing, and probably made the biggest whine after seeing that Gary wasn't going to get the book thrown at him. I don't think I ever met a nastier, bitter excuse for a "man" in my life. I was surprised some years later to see him listed in the Silent Keys column in QST, he wasn't that old. His bitterness probably did him in! I think one time, someone got him to shake hands with Billy B.C., and I understand that it was like pulling teeth.

When Stan died, I understand that AA6G basically took his place. Hearing him on the air, I'd believe it. See his bitter, whining QST article about catching the jammers that were crossbanding Police, etc. to 146.55 on top of him, K6CBL, KN6K, and others that met on 146.55 every night. I think he whined in the article about how " I don't know what these people are talking about, catching the jammers. It was Me! Me!" or something to that effect. The new Stan Kaisel....

I wonder if he still felt his DXCC total was important when he was laying in his casket?

Probably the most bitter, rotten old man that was part of the "anti-JIY", NCDXC group was Stan Kaisel, K6UD.

I remember very well that there was a dinner that was promoted by KR6P one evening at his family's restaurant, I believe it was before a swap meet one Friday evening in San Francisco. It may have been the SF Radio Club that held this particular swap meet at one of their monthly meetings. I wanted to go, but I was not able to get away in time to run up to the City to attend the dinner, but there were sure a bunch of disgruntled people who did go. I was able to make it up to the City later, in time to attend the swap meet/meeting, just not to the dinner. The people who did go to the dinner were under the impression that there would be some kind of price break, or maybe it was that John or his family was picking up the tab. Evidently it didn't happen, and the food was overpriced and not anything special. I think the restaurant was out near the Sunset district, at about Taraval and 19th Avenue.

Bill, it's been a long time since I've seen it, but if I ever run across it, I'll send you a copy. The guy the FCC caught doing the crossbanding from Public Safety channels to/from 146.55 was someone I don't remember ever hearing on any of the repeaters like 5.29. 6.82, 6.70, etc. - the usual hangouts. He was just someone who was having fun with the 146.55 "Jack and his whiny bitches", or the "Fags on Five-Five" group.

Remember the night the FCC inspector (I think it was Marty Volkoff) gave a talk at the NCDXC Meeting and someone called in a bomb threat to the meeting? Then later that evening, KN6K and others were talking about it on 146.55, and about how "they weren't supposed to be talking about it". There may be a tape recording of that conversation floating around somewhere.... :-)

My flight instructor and I sometimes stopped by the restaurant at the Golf Course across the street from the Palo Alto Airport, when I lived in Pala Alta with GQTK. On Friday evenings, we would typically go on a longer than usual flight, and we'd stop to have a bite to eat after the flight and discuss various flying lesson topics. He taught me to fly, I got him interested in ham radio - his call is N6MLE. I think he's been a ham long enough now to be in QCWA!

At several of those Friday evening post-flight dinners, it happened to be the evening that the NCDX Club met, at that same restaurant (I don't remember the name). Several times, with my aviation hand held radio sitting on the table (it looked like a 2-Meter HT), people who didn't know us thought we were hams and invited us to join in the meeting. We didn't, especially since a few of the "A H / Stan Kaisel types" gave us dirty looks and scowled at us.

I had forgotten about our group going there on purpose when a Friday evening DX Club meeting was going on. It sounds like something we would have done, though. Kinda like that ham radio luncheon in Beaverton, Oregon, with "Jerry" (Gary Kerr), you and I, and the local hams.

Larry,

I happened to be there the night of that meeting. I sat down in the back of the room and Stan Keisel pointed me out to the entire club and told me to leave, and that my kind wasn't welcome. Marty Volkoff was just walking up to the podium to give his talk, and said, "NEX I'd like to talk to you after I speak". It was W6CF who stood up and said I should stay through the meeting. So I listened to Marty's speach as DXers all tried burning holes thru my skull with stares. So I walked into the hall with Marty alfterwards, and he laughed and asked me if I was as bad as the DXers said I was. We ended up having a very interesting chat, an I got more insight from our private conversation than Marty ever said to the rest of the room. That was really fun. After the meeting broke up, I ended up holding court outside telling all these old men why it was so much fun to jack them up on their repeater and how they were out of their minds to think that channel was only for DX announcments.

Ha hahahahaha

143. 146.22/.82 "Code Practice"

Yahoo group: radiojammers

From: Bill Crowell
Topic: 143 Message: 143

The date: February, 1982. The Grizzly Peak VHF Amateur Radio Club, proprietor of the .22/.82 repeater, had tried everything to make the "jammers" go away, but nothing had worked. So in the Spring of 1980 they put their repeater in so-called "code practice" mode, in which it had transmitted the same, brief "code practice" message over and over for almost two years. Everybody knew this was just the club's attempt to play "dog in the manger" with the frequency pair. Repeated complaints to the Commission had been ignored. Finally, in February of 1982, N6AYJ prepared a petition to the Private Radio Bureau, asking that the Commission put an end to this "code practice jamming". The signatories to the petition were:

William Crowell, N6AYJ

Jon W. Salsman, KE6CX

Clarence H. "Hank" Knox, N6CGU (SK)

Michael R. Lewis, N6CZY

Fleming Larsen, OZ6OI/W6

Larry R. Johnson, K7LJ

Curt V. Naumann, KE6MJ (SK)

Robert D. Weller, N6NE

Phillip Beaudet, WD6FGE

Rick D. Mendell, "WD6BJC" (fake call; he was really a bootlegger but nobody realized it at the time! Signing the petition with his fake call represented the epitome of chutzpah, don't you think?)

(Signature Illegible), KJ6M (later caught jamming and surrendered his license rather than pay an NAL; call since reissued to another individual)

John D. Franz, N6FJE

Jim Pratt, N6IG

On October 19, 1982 the Special Services Division of the Private Radio Bureau issued a directive to the Grizzly Peak club to cease its code practice transmissions.

Is the 22/82 Repeater still operational? The last I remember, which was a long time ago, it could be turned on by a club member (of which there were very few) to make a call. Then it was turned off right away lest some of those "undesirables" try to actually use it.

I remember several others trying to put up a Repeater on 22/82 and promptly getting in trouble with the FCC since the Grizzly Peak ARC had the sanction for that frequency in the Bay Area - no one else.

And they never did let us join the club.

Dan, I had forgotten about that part of the evening, when you attended the DX Club meeting as a guest. I remember now, that's why many of us were monitoring 146.55, to see what the reaction to you attending the meeting was by "Jack and his whiny bitches". That's how we happened to hear about the activities at the meeting.

I remember you telling us about W6CF at the meeting. Everyone I ever talked to about him had nothing but good things to say about him, and that he was polite and respectful to everyone who met him. I never actually met him or knew him personally, but when he ran across me at swap meets, etc., he always greeted me by name and seemed sincere in being glad to see me. I know that he was a class act, a very highly educated man, and when he suddenly passed away within the last couple years, it was a sad loss to the whole ham community.

I had other dealings with some of the NCDX Club members, working them on DXpeditions, sending them QSLs with "Green Stamps", etc., which were always returned - sometimes with a very nice letter about my operating skills, appreciation for the contest points, etc. I found most of them to be great people, except for Stan Kaisel, K6UD and his few Nazi brownshirt boys that have taken his place. Since I can't hear the 146.55 activities up here, it would be interesting to know what goes on there now that K6CBL croaked a few months ago. Even he tried to "buddy up" to me on 145.29 when he found that I was occasionally beating him in some of the DX pileups!

If you look at the NCDXC web site, you can look at their monthly newsletters. They now meet at Harry's Hof Brau - I think it's in Redwood City. The newsletters sometimes have "What can we do to attract new members?" articles, since like most ham clubs, the old members are dying at a higher rate than new members are joining. Looking at the pictures of the monthly meetings in the NCDXC "DX'er" which is on their web site, it looks like the meeting turnout is very sparse, with mostly very OF's attending with their walkers and canes. If you look at their requirements for joining the club, it's still the "send in an application, then we'll vote on you at two separate monthly meetings. If we decide we like you, you're in, and we'll take your money. If not, take a hike!"

We've had a number of the NCDXC members move up here to the NW who have joined the Willamette Valley DX Club (based here in Portland) and they've told me some interesting stories about the NCDXC. One of them told me about the inner fighting within the NCDXC - some of it is because so many of them are lawyers who can't get along (no offense, Billy B.C!) But when I lived in the Bay Area, the members that I did meet who were lawyers were always very personable and outgoing towards me. I was offered help with antennas and towers, invited to other meetings and contest stations, and they treated me like I was one of the "group." Some of the former members also told about the "Big Amplifier Power Wars" that went on in the Bay Area, back in the 60's/70's with huge amplifiers. Some stations actually had to have 480VAC power run into their shacks to run the big amplifiers - 240V wasn't sufficient! These were no "small" pair of 4-1000A's that they were using - except maybe as a driver for the "Big" amp.

I'm glad that not all DX Clubs are like that one!

Poor Don. He has a drug problem which caused him to lose his city job. In addition, San Francisco has past a law prohibiting residence from owning handguns. If you had then before the law was past, you are to turn them over to the city. So, even though he had his handguns in a safe, he let the cops look into the safe. If Don was smart, he sell his house and move out of there.

I am very sorry to report that our good friend Don Bertone, KK6AN, has been having certain difficulties with San Francisco law enforcement officials recently:

How could they do this?? Don't they know he's an A-1 operaTOR?

149. How To Handle an FCC Bust: Free Expert Advice From Highly-Competent Lawyer

OK, let's say the Commission has revoked or refused to renew your license due to jamming, and you think the whole deal was really unfair. So you continue to operate, and the Commission isses a $10,000 Notice of Apparent Liability against you. You think this is even more unfair, so you refuse to pay it and just keep operating. Next thing you know, the Federal Marshalls and the FCC Enforcement Bureau pull up in front of your house and knock on your door, holding a document that looks suspiciously like an arrest warrant. What do you do? You need a legal strategy, and you need it fast! This is the best thing to do:

Dear John:

I would like to advise you that Dan Sakols, KA6NEX, has started a very fun message board devoted to the hijinks of the so-called ham radio "jammers" from the 1980's. The URL is:

http://groups.yahoo.com/group/radiojammers/

I am sure that everyone would be very pleased to have you join the group.

Best regards, and I hope we will be hearing from you soon.

Yours very truly,

According to their web site, they're very alive and well. See their web site:

http://www.ncdxc.org

There are links to their newsletter "The DX'er", and to a membership application, which has spaces for the Secretary to enter the results of the final membership application approval votes: "AYE___ and NAY____ ".

You'll see pictures of the big crowds at the meetings in some of the newsletters (including the March 2006 newsletter.) It was standing room only at Harry's Hof Brau. (NOT!)

"NCDXC Membership. NCDXC membership confers all rights and privileges. You will be introduced at a "first reading"--a club meeting at which your application will be read and at which you will present a summary of your DXing activities. At the next regular meeting there will be a "second reading" with comments by the membership, followed by a vote. "

Hamradiohobbyist must be one of those fucktards. By the way loser, you should learn the proper use of quotation marks.

What is it about ham radio operators (at least I think he/she is one) that makes them so paranoid? Why are these people so afraid to identify themselves?

Go ahead loser,

"PYN has fingers like that you know.

He's dead. He got so fat he could barely walk"

But isn't this standard operating procedure for hams?
Please see:

http://users.innercite.com/bcrowell4/Im A Ham Operator.mp3

'PYN may have been grossly overweight, but that was not the cause of his death. In essence, Riley Hollingsworth killed him.

Of course you will remember that when Riley first took his job as "chief enforcer" of the amateur rules, he knew absolutely nothing about amateur radio law. His only qualification for the job was that the ARRL wanted him appointed to the position because they knew they could control him.

The first thing he did was start sending "re-test" letters to all the hams who appeared on the League's shit list. Riley didn't even know that only hams who took their exams before a Volunteer Examiner could be re-tested before the Commission. He sent a re-test letter to Mike Delich, even though Mike had taken his exam before the Engineer In Charge.

Mike tried to talk to Riley about this but, true to form, Riley wouldn't listen and wouldn't withdraw the re-test notice. Ham radio was virtually Mike's whole life. He really didn't have any other activities, and all his friends were hams. He though he was going to lose his license illegally, and that there was nothing he could do about it. He got so frustrated and depressed about it that his health declined and he had a fatal heart attack. Everyone who knew him thought that Riley's ignorance of the amateur radio law was to blame.

Ducky put out a CD of some real terrible Jazz. The problem with Ducky is that nobody wants to tell him how poorly he plays the piano. For example, Ducky tried to get a job playing at a local coffee shop in Willow Glen. The owners of the coffee shop did not want to hurt his feelings after they heard him play, so they made up a story that his music was not "common" enough for there customers. Some people are just too thick headed to even take a hint! He said that they were a bunch of BV's and that they did not know good music when they heard it.

Do you have this "James Armstrong Trio" CD? I didn't see any kind of ordering info, except maybe the possibility of purchasing it at a live show. But no live shows were listed, either.

I remember the first time I saw WA6 "Pick Your Nose" - it was at a hamfest out in the East Bay somewhere, back in the 1980's. He was yelling at Gary Kerr, who was wearing an N6NE name badge. "Come on, Gary, WA6JIY - why are you afraid to let everyone know your REAL call? You're not N6NE! We know who you are!" and so on.....

I don't see WA6PYN listed in QRZ.com, I didn't know he was a SK. But I see that his old buddy, K6CBL has had his call reissued. I wonder if the new K6CBL is holding court as the new Channel Queen of 146.55 in San Francisco?

Everywhere I go, women stare at my can canyon. I'm really getting sick of it!

They ogle my crevasse, and act as if they've never seen a bootycleft before. What the hell is wrong with them? Haven't they ever heard the song "Moonriver"?

Chocolate-loving women will make suggestive remarks about my fudge fjord. Chubby girls whisper that they want to explore my fuzzy flesh furrow. I feel totally objectified, sexually speaking!

Soccer moms want to play on my midfield stripe, and when I object, they pretend to be romantic and say they love my moonscape.

When I try to discuss the subject with them seriously, they make a joke of it and say they just want to play beltline vertical peekaboo, or that I have a beautiful roofer's companion.

The really kinky ones talk about making a visit to grimy gulch. Why are they so fascinated by my bum divot?

I need help from my men's affinity group. Please respond.

Do you have this "James Armstrong Trio" CD? I didn't see any kind of ordering info, except maybe the possibility of purchasing it at a live show. But no live shows were listed, either.

Subject: [radiojammers] Ducky has a CD!!!

Ducky put out a CD of some real terrible Jazz. The problem with Ducky is that nobody wants to tell him how poorly he plays the piano. For example,

Ducky tried to get a job playing at a local coffee shop in Willow Glen. The owners of the coffee shop did not want to hurt his feelings after they heard him play, so they made up a story that his music was not "common" enough for there customers. Some people are just too thick headed to even take a hint! He said that they were a bunch of BV's and that they did not know good music when they heard it.

Harry was a student of my grandfather who taught at John O'Connell School of Broadcasting. He took an interest in me for that reason, but I recall he was even hitting me up (as a teenager) for money to buy booze.

Oh Yes John, I remember you ....the guy from BYOB or BYU. You had a girlfriend named Annesthesia or something. You visited either the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity house, or came to a party down on 45th ave.

186. More on the Dispute Between San Antonio Hams

Yahoo group: radiojammers
Date: 2006-03-23 05:37:24 UTC
From: Bill Crowell
Topic: 186 Message: 186

I spoke today to Luis, N7PLC, of San Antonio, Texas, who says he has been the victim of some pretty severe harassment over a substantial period of time on 146.52 simplex by three other San Antonio hams, KC5PRX, WD5FWP and WD5GXH. I sympathize with Luis and believe what he is telling me. The problem is that Part 97 does not prohibit such activity per se. It would have to constitute a violation of some substantive prohibition contained in Part 97 before Hollingsworth could take any action on it, and Sec. 97.1 is not such a substantive prohibition. It is instead only the general "Basis and Purpose" section of Part 97. The harassment would have to rise to the level of, for example, a "communication intended to facilitate a criminal act" [Sec. 97.113(a)(4)] before it would become actionable, but the way Luis explained it to me, it doesn't appear that the harassment in question does so.

So again, we have a case of Riley bluffing by claiming to take action under Sec. 97.1, and hoping that the three hams will get scared and cease their harassment because they don't want to have Riley impose an N.A.L. or modify their operating privileges. But this raises two difficult questions: (1) what if they fight the case? Obviously Riley is not going to take them to an ALJ hearing based on defective charges; and (2) what if they don't get scared and stop harassing Luis? Indeed, Luis reports that, although they seemed scared at first, they have now become emboldened and have gone back to harassing him again. So is Riley going to continue to bluff them? Again, what if they call his bluff?

If Hollingsworth wants to be able to take action against hams for "harassment" of other hams, he needs to amend the rules so as to include such a prohibition. If they can do it in the case of the "Gary Kerr Amendment", they can damned well do it in this case, too. But then you get into free speech issues. Citizens are entitled to be notified in advance by such a rule concerning exactly what conduct is prohibited and what conduct is permissible. How can you specify what constitutes prohibited harassment without being so vague and general in that description that it would impermissibly derogate from hams' free speech rights? Probably this is why the Rules never contained a prohibition against "harassment" in the first place. Maybe "harassment" is an evil that we are forced to put up with in order to have free speech on the ham bands. Besides, as we have all observed, the perception of "harassment" is often largely subjective in nature. One man's "harassment" will be another man's brilliant verbal self-defense. And we all know how quick some sniveling, whining, complaining hams are to claim "harassment" whenever someone raises their voice to them, or looks at them crosseyed. I doubt that there really is any satisfactory answer to this problem.

I find it curious why Mr. Hollingsworth would leave out the jamming violation and use what appears to be a superficial section for the violation. Section 97.1 only contains the ☐Basis and Purpose☐ and does not provide any information on what communications should be excluded, prohibited, restricted and/or limits that should apply. For example, talking about the fucktards on 3840 would not fit within the 97.1 Basic and Purpose, but I do not see any restrictions that would prevent us from talking about them.

§97.1 Basis and purpose.

The rules and regulations in this Part are designed to provide an amateur radio service having a fundamental purpose as expressed in the following principles:

(a) Recognition and enhancement of the value of the amateur service to the public as a voluntary noncommercial communication service, particularly with respect to providing emergency communications.

(b) Continuation and extension of the amateur's proven ability to contribute to the advancement of the radio art.

(c) Encouragement and improvement of the amateur service through rules which provide for advancing skills in both the communications and technical phases of the art.

(d) Expansion of the existing reservoir within the amateur radio service of trained operators, technicians, and electronics experts.

(e) Continuation and extension of the amateur's unique ability to enhance international goodwill.

Good work Bill,

Rich

Because there is no prohibition against "harassment" in Part 97, so he had to say SOMETHING!

Because he operates totally on bluff. He doesn't intend to take any cases to an ALJ hearing, so he doesn't need to mention a proper basis for the violation. He just hopes to scare (they didn't call him the "Special Counsel for Amateur Radio Enforcement" for nothing) the recipient into complying with his grand vison of what amateur radio should be.

Well Ducky, I guess this is the level of communications you are custom to by having Chinese and Flip wives (see below).

It's funny that Ducky only dated women who needed help in getting their green card. Ducky, why don't you tell us the story about the Filipino women whom you attained a green card for, and then she wanted to bring her whole family over here?????

The Ducky story of "The Green Card Wife":

Ducky married an old Filipino grandmother. Once married, she wanted to bring not just her kids, but ALL her grandchildren over here. With the help from me, Ducky finally saw the light and divorced the old Filipino woman. But, within a short period of time after the divorce of the Filipino grandmother, Ducky turns around and marries a Chinese woman whom also needed a green card. Both of his wives spook very little English, and were very hard to understand. I currently did not know the status of the Chinese women.

Next time, I tell the story of "Why Ducky bought Life Insurance from a Chinese Women"

Remember the time WB6GQK was jamming Uncle Bill and a bunch of WESCARS OFs DFd him? They rang his door bell, and when he answered they set off a stink bomb. Rich's mother grounded Rich for a month because she had to have all the drapes and carpets cleaned due to the smell. But that didn't stop Rich. The time he spent at home he jammed every hour. By the time it was over Uncle Bill took a vacation to get away from it all. Good work Rich. At the time Rich had a Philipino girl friend and she dumped him because of his obsession. Rich said he would never date another flip, but it wasn't a week later he was going hot and heavy with another one. What he didn't know at the time, she was a transexual and had a ham license. He had a big surprise when the plumbing connections weren't compatable.

If you think the 22/82 days were bad, then you must have missed the greatest show of them all in the year 1999:

http://www.royhooper.com/mza.html

(Billy, checkout the audio bits of MZA above.)

2-25-99
FCC SHUTS DOWN TROUBLESOME BAY AREA REPEATER

The FCC has shut down for 120 days the K7IJ repeater facility on Grizzly Peak in the San Francisco Bay area and told the licensee his ham ticket could be in jeopardy. The FCC took the action by modifying K7IJ's license to prohibit repeater operation starting midnight February 28, 1999. The repeater operates on 145.29, 223.78, 440.175, and 441.175 MHz. The FCC also set aside recent license grants of four individuals accused of unlicensed operation on the repeater prior to obtaining their amateur tickets and other behavior. The cases, the first major VHF/UHF enforcement actions the FCC has taken in recent months, were brought to the Commission's attention by the Amateur Auxiliary. The FCC's Riley Hollingsworth, K4ZDH, said that for almost a year, the repeater's control operator, identified as Blake B. Jenkins, N6YSA, of Berkeley, California, "has apparently not only allowed, but encouraged, use of the repeater by unlicensed operators, rebroadcast of cordless telephone calls, playing of music, and profanity and obscenity." He said extended QSOs have taken place between the control operator and unlicensed stations. Hollingsworth said the situation was brought to the attention of the licensee, Bruce Wachtell of Carson City, Nevada, but nothing was done. "Such operations are not only contrary to the Amateur Radio Service rules and frequency allocations, but degrade the service for legitimate radio licensees as well," Hollingsworth said in a certified letter to Wachtell February 25. "The operation of the K7IJ repeater system in this manner may reflect adversely upon your qualifications to hold a Commission license." Hollingsworth said Jenkins' "actions and omissions" while control operator were under separate FCC review, along with those of the secondary control op, Steven R. Rossi, KE6LNH, of Novato, California. The FCC set aside the recent license grants or upgrades of James C. Walker, KF6VAA; Gordon B. Reese III, KF6QKA; Michael J. Nichols, KF6UAS; and Eric B. Shuler, KF6BMG (ex-KF6UJU) pending further investigation. The FCC has permitted Reese, who just upgraded to Tech Plus, to retain his Technician operating privileges while its investigation continues. The FCC also warned Mervyn Ehambrave of E Palo Alto, California, about unlicensed operation on the K7IJ repeater, and warned Timmy O Sheen Sr, N6MZA, about behavior including "jamming and rebroadcasts of cordless phones" on the repeater, Hollingsworth said.

God bless all my fans out there!

I really think Megans list should include a search by Ham call sign and include calls with the individual listings. I'll bet there is a higher percentage of hams who are on Megan's list than any other identifiable group. This is valuable information for when things get out of hand on the airwaves. I wouldn't just go around broadcasting this but if a person fires the first shot he is vulnerable for retaliation. Good info to know. I'm going to get ahold of Arnold tomorrow when I'm at the Capitol and see if he can get ham callsigns included on the list. Arnold is a great guy.

That was when Mitch was jamming the Davis repeater. Hi Mitch. Hey, sorry about that explosion in front of your house. I hope we didn't scare your mom. We were a little extreme back then.

Hello Steve,

I am referring to an incident in the early 90's when Mitch lived in Sunnyvale area. He was on the K7IJ repeater which has nothing to do with Davis.

I am pleased to announce that on April 11, 2006 the FCC issued the vanity callsign "W6WBJ" to me. I am now considering its phonetic possibilities. Any suggestions would be appreciated.

"World's Biggest Jammer"?
"Water Buffalo Jammer"?
"Witness Billy Jerking"?

I am sure you can come up with better ones.

Gary, Gary, Gary! How can you be so silly! OF COURSE I was NOT accusing you of being a mouse! Do you think I'm DUMB or something (don't answer that)!? Mitch already has an exclusive on that species. I was suggesting that perhaps you might be a SQUIRREL; Rocky the Flying Squirrel, to be exact. Or perhaps Yogi Bear. That is because they are saying so on 7255 and, as we all know, everything said on that frequency is true.

So, Gaaaaary, the question remains: are you Rocky?? Are you Yogi??

Inquiring minds demand to know, although that is irrelevant to the present inquiry because we've all blown our minds on drugs and alcohol and therefore they no longer inquire about anything.

Billy,
Along with not being a mouse, I am neither a squirrel nor a bear. Who would have the audacity on 7255 to even entertain, and I use the word losely, the idea of such a thing? I will be going tomorrow afternoon to the high dessert east of Barstow and won't be back till Monday. So, if you hear a mouse, squirrel or bear you will know it isn't me as I will have no ham radio on this trip. If I should see Art Bell out there some place I will report him to the authorities.

Don't leave out your buddies Jack and Ken on 3815. Most people just call them fuckheads.

"larryjspammenot@..." <larryj@...> wrote:

Congrats on the new call!

After looking at the who's who list of whiny blanktards, and listening occasionally on 3840/3847, I'm sorry to see that many of the biggest whiners are up here in the Portland/Salem area. That just seems to be a lot of the mentality up here in the NW, which is a major home of white trash meth addicts. I couldn't help but notice that some of the calls (like KD7, KE7) are fairly new calls - more of the people popping up on the ham bands that are going to show us all how ham radio should really be done.

You can just imagine what I went through when I put up a 2-Meter Repeater in Portland some years ago which attracted a lot of young people - some of them were having fun on there all night long sometimes. Since it wasn't the typical 2-Meter/75-Meter "Old Fart Health Problems Net", where most of the conversations were about heart problems, diabetes, chemo, etc., it really pulled some of the locals' panties up over their heads. Some of them threatened to call the Mayor's office and have it shut down and kicked off of the hill (it was located up at a City 2-way radio facility), they complained to my boss, wrote articles about it in local ham club newsletters and made recordings of it. They "hated" it, but they just couldn't stay away. One of the stories as justification for the problems occuring because of this Repeater was that someone's car was broken into and all the memories in his 2-Meter mobile radio were reprogrammed to the frequency of my Repeater. It just HAD to be done by some of the users of this "nefarious" Repeater.

It's like the guy who writes for Worldradio and other newsletters about the 147.435 "Animal Farm" Repeater in Los Angeles. He whines about it year after year - he seems to have a 2-Meter radio that is stuck on that frequency, has no ON/OFF switch, and is forced by radio terrorists to listen to it all day, every day. We've been tempted many times to send him a package with a channel selector switch and an ON/OFF switch to hook up to his radio. Poor fellow.

Let 'em whine! Sorry, but I don't have much sympathy for them. I guess we'll all just have to often get on and call for W6WBJ so they don't forget that new call.

Gary and Dan, that is correct, I dumped WC6F and got W6KCS, which was my dad's call from the rotary gap days. I never liked WC6F that much and W6KCS sounds more O.F. like and is great on CW.

John sent me an email about a year ago, and I forwarded it to Tom, and we sent a few emails back and forth but I can't find them, so I don't have his address. I saw him a few years ago and his hair was shorter.

I think John works for HP in Roseville and Tom does engineering consulting out of SF. I'll see if I can get ahold of them.

I think John said something about getting married soon. Good for him.

It's funny, about a week ago I was at the Grad trying to explain to my girlfriend how we climbed on the roof and jammed the big screen TV with porn on Superbowl Sunday. I don't think she believed it. She did believe the part of the story where we lined up at the tables with our HT's eating Gradburgers and thought we were cool.

Dan: My red car was a MK-II Sprite, I wanted a bugeye but never could find one in good shape and probably couldn't have afforded it anyway. Tom had a Spitfire with a 1.8L or 2L Opel engine that was pretty fast, maybe that's what you remember us cruising in. Later his roomate put a Mazda Rotary out of an RX-3 in it. That made it even faster, but it sounded weird. Also that engine came with an automatic transmission :-(

heh

This campaign is about Human beings, Democracy, UNHCR, Refugees, The Iraqis, Islam, Kurds, Human rights, Respect, Money, Donations, Angelina Jolie, Pavarotti, Giorgio Armani, Donors, Peace, History, Campaigns and about you if you care about these words.

Hi there,

I am SAM, an Iraqi refugee living in Lebanon at the moment; I have spent the last 10 years of my life as a refugee registered with the UNHCR in Beirut. The last 4 years, I have spent as an activist for peace and human rights (especially refugees and asylum seekers) on the Internet; I'm also books author and ebooks publisher. I have launched many campaigns to improve our situation as refugees in Lebanon and hopefully bring more understanding to our problems worldwide. I helped make many changes and improvements at the UNHCR office in Beirut; I used the Internet as the field for my activities (you can read more about that in my free ebook 'MY CAMPAIGNS'). All my ebooks are free and could be download from my sites.

This is my newest campaign, it's about the illegal and humiliating actions of the UNHCR, who using photos of refugees as banners and human-buttons to collect money. This is an abuse of the dignity and humanity of the refugees and must stop immediately and a clear public apology present by The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees. My friends, I am talking about the pictures you can see here:
http://www.psend.com/users/unhcrlebanon/human-buttons.htm

Also you can read my new campaign 'Urgent, we need smile' here:
http://News.net4free.org/lebanon/email_me.htm

For more info about UNHCR and life of refugees you can read my free ebooks. I invite you as fellow humans and members of the world community to support my campaign by reading my article on my site and see the human-buttons. The campaign is to support and improve the UNHCR http://www.unhcr.org especially after the last scandals in the UN and UNHCR, just for example: http://www.mizzima.com/archives/news-in-2005/news-in-april/12-April05-22.htm

"We make demonstration and fast because the UNHCR office in Cairo did nothing for our problem..." http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/africa/4440730.stm

Together we will build better world.

You could reach me fast via this form: http://unhcrlebanon.galaxy99.net/email_me.htm and if you like to know more about me, you can google for my name 'osam altaee'.

Hello Billy,

There is something about living in the bay area that makes a lot of people either gay, Bi, or A-Sexual.

For example, Gary W. Kerr was straight until he started living in the bay area. Gary now claims he likes sucking off men.

Hey All,

Looks like I am finally getting out the bay area in less then 15 days.
I'm going to be a mountain man just like Billy.

By the way, I have a Gary W. Kerr update. According to his uncle, and he is now renting a room in Redwood City.

By the way, who keeps playing the recording of that dirty MZA stuff: "You mother fucker, cook sucker, ball head..."? Is this directed at you Bill since you have very little hair?

I don't operate on VHF or Uhf and have lost tract of the comings and goings on those bands. Yes, Gary Kerr was the only ham who could scan on Transmit. By the way, Rich, NE6W and I have started a new Chicago Project which will be announced in a couple of months. I will keep you posted. It is going to blow your mind when announced. It's driving Billy crazy to know what it is. I will post it on this list when it is time.

I don't care, Joel is SK. He is probably in heaven and knows anyway. You know, when you get to heaven you are one with God and God and Santa Claus know all. So be good. Mind your parents and what ever you do, DON'T MASTURBATE.

Well, dippy, you're not alone. But I haven't seen a post on this list in over six months. Keep up the good work and the good audio on 75M. You are one of the Bill collector's favorite hams. You need to talk to Johnnie Michael Peters more. He loves you and your audio.

Yes Dippy, it's me, wet dreaming six girls without clothes- WD6GWC!
I'm still in Palo Alto, for now, thinking of moving the fuck out of here, I live right by were Larry and Gerry Kerr lived. I'm about to turn 47 in a few days and it sucks, I have no kids, no wife, no pot, no nuttin, but I do have a 4 band HT, 6, 2, 440 and 1.2 GHz. Where the hell is big PP? I have a land line and a cell phone and all i get is wrong numbers, who is responsible for this. Where is Danny, who let the dogs out?

So Mitch, where are you working? Is your Mother still over in Davis? Can you fix my pinball machine?

I sure miss California, but could never afford to live there, especially having a place like I do with acreage up on a hilltop. I guess it's time for a trip down South to see how the rest of the world lives.

Hi Larry, hey CTK is still and kicking i hear him calling in on late night talk shows on KGO radio. I live close to University and 101, I can see the apartment building you used to live in from my bathroom window. I'm glad to see your still not in jail, hi hi. I'm planning to go over to Gordon Biersch this Sunday to have a few and get some of the food there, they sold out you know they are now all over and in Hawaii too. I'm just trying survive, I've finally used my passport, I've been to Colombia South America twice, that was fun, I don't speak Spanish.

My mom is still in Davis, unfortunately she has had multiple strokes and does not know who i am anymore, she is getting very skinny and wont be around much longer.

I hope one day I can see you, or anyone else that would like to say hi. The time is going by real fast it seems.

Union City is just over the bridge from me you smegger. I go on 5.29 at times and do the PP whistle, up on 440 too, I heard big PP a while back, he is still around, I miss him, he wont answer me, I have sent him a couple of letters and nothing. I would love to get together with any of you mugs for lunch or something. If anyone wants my cell # let me know, big kiss.

Yes Dippy, I'm always out here and I have been trying to get together with you for what...almost 20 years for some pizza or a beer or freakin whatever. I'm going to London for a couple weeks at the end of this month and over to ausi land around March for a couple of weeks, but I got time.

Maybe you guys all knew, but I just saw this today on the eham.net site. One of the most beloved, dear YL hams became a silent key - LouAnn Keogh, KB6HP.

She was a dear friend to many hams, including Gary Kerr WA6JIY, Kurt KE6MJ, and many more amateur radio operators on the Grizzly Peak 2-Meter Repeater. She enjoyed a special relationship with Alan Vance, K6MMZ, and he spoke about their closeness many times on the radio.

I'm sure many of the Sacramento area hams were in attendance at her funeral. But she will live on through the recordings of her time spent on the radio.

You need to mellow out some more and start listening to my buddie Howard Stern. I have tried calling the dippy hotline and it just rings, so why don't you give me a call when your free, 650 799-5670.

Id love to hear some tapes too. Mitch was the funniest guy on Ham Radio, next to Gary Kerr of course. I remember leaving the radio on thru an amplified speaker blasting out of my Davis dorm room one saturday night. When i came home around midnight, at the peak of the 22/82 evening show, there were a alot of people sitting around outside listening to the radio show and getting into it.
Eddy 65? I can't believe it Is he still on the hom radio?

Mitch,

I was just thinking of you over the hollidays. We brought a bunny home from my daughters school for the break and let it run around the house and yard.

Didn't your brother have some hair in his Davis place and even a special vaccuum to suck up the "smart pills". Did that rabbit run free? did it chew everything up, Our rabbit, after being outside for a few days got so wild we had trouble catching it. They are wiley critters.

Anyway, and insight?

You need to get yourself some stuff called "Motor Bath".

How come you never told anyone you lived in a Tin House?

We tried to tell you, but you wouldn't listen....

Hey Lawy,

Howard Freedman showed up last night on 3740. Rich talked to him.
His call is AI6J (WB6YAS). I have so much TV generated noise on that freq. that I can hardly hear anything.

I don't recognize that call or name,?maybe someone from 3965?

All that ITV noise sounds like the house I have in Portland. 160, 80 and 40 Meters were pretty quiet years ago when I first bought it, but now there's usually an S-7 noise level most of the time. At my place out in the country, I see 40 meters often open around the clock (like yesterday - JA, 9M2, etc. coming in even from 10 AM to 2 PM, then it's open to Europe), and Europe/Africa coming in on 80 Meters at 2:30 in the afternoon sometimes. The S-Meter sits at S0 - S1, even on?my vertical antenna. I would have never believed such a thing if I hadn't seen it myself. It's definitely worth the long commute to & from work.

Plus, I get to hear Stan, Steve, and all the other Fine Business people with no local noise if I get tired of DX'ing!

Beloved Shitheads, 'tis with a heavy heart that we relate the demise of W. Richard Bassett (known affectionately as 'Richie-Poo' and 'NE6w"), who met his maker in a firey motortrike crash near his beloved domicile in Magalia, California. A routine trip down the mountain from his isolated, Hinshew Road trailer compound to pick up butt lube and condoms from a regional distributor lead to this most unfortunate incident. Richie was semi-retired and preferred isolating himself with ham radios in deep backwoods, as opposed to going out and making something out of himself, other than doo-doo pies. In keeping with his last will and testament, his estate will go to his long-time partner Dennis J. Flora of Red Bluff. Funeral services are pending, but will conclude with a celebration and 21 gun salute, if you catch my drift. 88's

343. New poll for radiojammers

Enter your vote today! A new poll has been created for the radiojammers group:

Before going SK, what was NE6W's reason for moving to Magalia?

o beats the heck out of me, stupid
o he wanted peace and quiet, and plenty of time to jam on ham radio o an old 750 square foot trailer on acreage is a sound investment
o it's fun to run around the woods buck naked, acting like an idiot
o all of the above

To vote, please visit the following web page:

Sound like a bunch of bullshit to me. What proof do you have?

And KI6KY is going around lying, as usual, by saying that I posted this. Absolutely untrue! John is just very angry and hurt because I've rejected him, and he's lashing out. The guy is just too fucking weird, not to mention all of the mush-headed liberal/conspiracy bullshit that he's constantly spouting on the radio. Fortunately I haven't heard him on the air too much recently. Hopefully he's found himself a new hobby where he can meet more dipshits like himself. And if I'm responsible for making him go QRT, then I TOLD YOU SO! I'M IMPROVING THE HOBBY!

Too bad Danny will not tell us where Gary is staying now. He was staying in Redwood City where he was renting a room in a trailer. There was some comment about living in a camper, but no details if its on a truck or setting on the ground, or location of the camper. I find it hard to believe Gary would get his driver license again being a drunk.

I wonder how is broken hip is doing since he refused to get it fix.
